extraordinary rise on the price of leather, they have been under the necessity of raising the price of Boots, Men and Women's Shoes, &c. which they did at a meeting held upon the 6th of November current. They then fixed a scale of prices, which is to be seen at the different makers shops in that town.
And they beg leave to inform their Customers, and the Public in general, That, notwithstanding this unavoidable rise, the prices of Shoemaker Work in Perth are still lower than in any other town in Scotland.
As they have to pay ready money for the leather they use, they hope their Customers will be as prompt in their payments as possible.

LONDON GAZETTE.
NOVEMBER 13.
NAPLES, September 25, 1798.

His Majesty's ships the Culloden, Captain Trowbridge, the Alexander, Captain Ball, and the frigate Bonne Citoyenne, came into this port on the 18th instant in the evening. His Sicilian Majesty went out in his boat into the bay to meet them, as did numerous English and Neapolitan boats. The ships gave the royal salute to his Majesty.—Admiral Sir Horatio Nelson, in the Vanguard, accompanied by the Thalia frigate, did not make his appearance in this bay until Saturday last the 22d instant, having been becalmed off Sicily.

The King of Naples not only went off to meet the Admiral, but instantly went on board the Vanguard, and staid on board until that vessel was at anchor in the port. The royal salute was given by all the King's ships, both on his Sicilian Majesty's arrival on board the Vanguard, and on his leaving the ship. The day being remarkably fine, numerous boats with colours and music attended the Vanguard, and all the shores and wharfs of Naples were crowded with a multitude of rejoicing people; and when the Admiral came on shore, the reception the Neapolitans gave him was expressive of the utmost kindness and gratitude.

SEPTEMBER 28, 1798.
Every assistance has been given to the Vanguard, the Culloden, and Alexander, so that these ships will be fit to go again to sea in a few days. Yesterday his Majesty's ship Colofus, Captain Murray, with four victuallers, from Gibraltar, came to an anchor in this port.
This morning Sir Horatio Nelson has received a letter from Sir James Saumarez, dated from the port of Augusta in Sicily, the 17th instant, reporting all well in the squadron under his command, and that he hoped, having got water and fresh provisions, to sail from thence for Gibraltar the Wednesday following.

SEPTEMBER 29, 1798.
Captain Gage, in the Terpsichore, arrived here this morning. He left Malta the 26th instant, when Sir James Saumarez with his Squadron, in conjunction with the Portuguese Squadron under the command of Marquis Nizza, had summoned the French to surrender and evacuate Malta, which was refused by M. Vaubois, the Commander in Chief of the Valeta; and that Sir James Saumarez was proceeding with his Squadron and French prizes to Gibraltar, having left the Portuguese to block Malta, and having, at the request of the Maltese insurgents, supplied them with a large quantity of ammunition, and twelve hundred stand of arms from his French prizes. The Maltese say, that the French are in the greatest want at Valeta.

By a cartel which arrived yesterday at Dover, with among others, sixty officers who had been taken prisoners in the expedition against Ostend, we have received the Paris Journals up to the 2d instant inclusive; and this morning we received those of the 3d. The port of Calais is now open for the packets, and we expect to receive the French papers with regularity in future.
ANOTHER ELOPEMENT.—A young lady of respectable connections in Leicester-square, eloped early yesterwhom she contrived to meet at a most infamous house, in Old Round Court, Strand, where she solicited her parents to let her go, under the pretext of its being a

FRANCE.
EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY.
On the 31st ult. the Executive Directory sent the following message to the Council of Five Hundred:
"Citizens Representatives,
"The Executive Directory received yesterday your message relative to the rebellion which has broken out in a part of the departments incorporated with the Republic by the law of the 9th Vendemiaire, 4th year.— This rebellion bore at first a very serious appearance; the military conscription seems to have been but a mere pretext. It is the effect of the fuggellions of England and of fanaticism. The authors of the rebellion are men formerly attached either to the Government of the ci-devant-Belgium, or to the party of the Stadtholder; the insurgents are priests, monks, vagrants; and foreigners. The trees of liberty have been replaced by crosses —one part of the faggions wore the Orange cockade, and the standards of another were marked with the Imperial eagle. The Executive Directory has adopted the most energetic and most vigorous measures to suppress the revolt, and entertains the most sanguine hopes of their proving successful. It will crush the rebellion and punish the guilty. It is not yet able to say whether it will be necessary to resort to new legislative measures against refractory priests, requisitionists, deserters, and citizens belonging to the military conscription. It waits for more ample information, to point out the ulterior measures which it may judge necessary to propose.— But the Executive Directory would think itself deficient in the performance of one of its most important duties, did it not inform you that, though it flatters itself to crush the commotions which have broken out, it cannot hope to prevent their renewal, as long as it has not at its disposal a sufficient fund of secret service money, for procuring the means of getting early intelligence of all the manoeuvres of the English and of other enemies of the Republic. The sum of 1,500,000 livres tournois is indispensably requisite for this purpose, and the Directory invites you accordingly to take this message into your most speedy and serious consideration.
"TREILHARD, President.
"LAGARDE, Sec. General."

The sum demanded in this message was immediately granted by the Council of Five Hundred.
THOMAS PAINE TO THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY.
Citizens Directors,
The Irishmen who went with General Humbert, bearing your commissions, have been taken and hanged.
Those who have gone on the second naval expedition are exposed to the same fate. The following facts have a striking connection with the plan which I halten to present to you. General Lee of the American army was taken prisoner by the English in 1776, they threatened to hang him; Congress having no prisoners of the same rank, caused six lieutenant-colonels, prisoners, to be kept as hostages for him, and to be treated in every event in the same manner in which their General might be treated by the English. This conduct produced the desired effect; this General, instead of being hanged, was first set at liberty on his parole, and afterwards exchanged. The Directory, among their prisoners of war in France, have many Irish officers who are attached to the British Government, and it is just that these officers bearing English commissions, should be kept as hostages for the Irish officers who have French commissions. In another point of view our defence ought to be assimilated to another defence, and the English officers taken at Ostend ought to be retained as hostages for the French officers taken in the design upon Ireland.

It is necessary likewise to observe, that, for more than a century, the Irish have been used to go into the service of France, and to take French commissions, and that these commissions have been always respected by the British Government. The Irishmen who went with the expedition have in their favour a custom admitted and settled, and they serve under French generals. This differs greatly from the Emigrants at Quiberon. The Emigrants there were a separate body, acting solely under Emigrant officers.

THOMAS PAINE.
It does not appear that the Directory have adopted any measure in consequence of this advice; but they have issued an arrete, which orders that all the natives of neutral powers taken at sea in the English or Russian service, shall be considered as pirates.
Arrette of the Executive Directory, dated the 29th ult.—
The Executive Directory, in consequence of the report of the Minister of Foreign Relations, observing that the drones, privateers, and ships, both of England and of Russia
are in a great measure equipped by foreigners:
Seeing moreover, that this violation is a manifest abuse of the law of nations, and that the European powers have no steps to check it, decrees:—
Article I. That every person, either native or originally from the countries in amity or alliance with France; or in a neutral state, who is bearer of a Commission granted by the enemies of France, or who composes a part of the crews of ships of war, or others belonging to the enemy, shall, by virtue of this act alone, be declared a traitor, and treated as such without his being permitted, in any case whatever, to claim that he was compelled into such service by force, threats, or otherwise.
Article II. The Executive Directors of the Batavian, Lig-urian, Cisalpine, and Roman Republics, shall be informed of such arrete.
Article III. The provisions contained in the first article shall be notified to neutral and to the powers allied to the French Republic.
Article IV. The Minister of Foreign Relations is charged with the execution of the present arrete, which shall be published in the bulletin of the laws.

EGYPT.
Alexandria, 18 Fructidor, Sept. 4.
BUONAPARTE, COMMANDER IN CHIEF, TO THE PACHA
OF CAIRO.
"The intention of the French Republic in taking possession of Egypt has been to expel the Mamelucks, who were at once rebels against the Porte, and avowed enemies of the French Government. At this moment that the finds herself mistress of it, in consequence of the signal victory attained by her army, her design is to secure to the Pacha of the Grand Seignior, his revenues, and his existence. I intreat you, therefore, to assure the Porte that it shall experience no loss, and that I shall take care it shall receive the same tribute which was previously paid to it."
"BUONAPARTE."

Europe must have heard the report of our exploits; but if it has listened with astonishment to the recital of our military exploits, it will also attend with interest to our domestic operations.
"Error was the first sentiment experienced by the Egyptians. This people, naturally mild and timid, did not dare shew themselves before the powerful congorrator, whose intentions they did not yet know. They hid themselves and concealed their provisions; for which reason the army was at first obliged to be supplied by their sea provisions. But when that first impression was removed by the discipline of our army, and the wife disposition of its General, they were impressed with confidence, and gave abundant supplies of every thing. Fowls, eggs, pigeons, oxen, and all the animals with which that country abounds, were brought into us with profusion. To give facility to traffic, a Commission fixed the value of the respective monies—a French crown of six francs was made the amount of 150 para. The para is a brass coin alloyed with silver, equal to a centime of France.
The Alexandrians at first were much against us; they feared to suffer by the exchange; but they were soon sensible of their error, and the more they communicate with us, the more does their affection for us increase.
The first object of Buonaparte on his arrival was to gain the confidence and affection of the Sheriffe. He decorated him with a tri-coloured scarf, and shewd him every kind of distinction and honour. The Sheriffe put his hand to his heart, and invoking Allah, assured him of his gratitude.—But the General soon discovered that the traitor had an understanding with the Mamelucks, and was preparing an insurrection. He seized him, and put him on board l'Orient, whence, before its catastrophe, he was transferred to a brig in the river Nile. Buonaparte demanded as hostages the children of the principal inhabitants of the country.
By a proclamation he ordered that the ridiculous flags and superstitious customs of the people should be respected. They were not disturbed either in their frequent religious ceremonies, or in their domestic habits. The Egyptians have a sort of veneration for dogs. These animals live, as it were, in tribes, and with a sort of police amongst them, that, if a dog passes from one tribe to another, the latter sends him back. The charity of the Egyptians administers to their wants, and they believe them die of old age, however disgusting they may be.
Whoever should beat a dog, all Egypt would revolt against; and dogs, therefore, were respected by the French. They pay also worship to turtle doves; they live in their houses and streets like domestic animals, and not a dove fell by the musket of a Frenchman.
Buonaparte had batteries constructed, which commanded Alexandria and the road. One on the way to Cairo, and another at the entrance of the old harbour.
The ships Dubois and le Cauffe, of 74 guns, seven si-gates, and about three hundred transports, are at anchor in the old harbour; a thing unheard of before amongst Europeans. The Turks only had heretofore the exclusive privilege of entering that port. The ships of other nations were only allowed to enter the new harbour, the anchorage of which is so often fatal. The General, who looks to every thing, had previously constructed Lazarettoes, the first that were seen in the cassian countries.

and not a dove fell by the musket of a Frenchman.
Buonaparte had batteries constructed, which commanded Alexandria and the road. One on the way to Cairo, and another at the entrance of the old harbour.
The ships Dubois and le Cauffe, of 74 guns, seven si-
gates, and about three hundred transports, are at anchor in the old harbour; a thing unheard of before a-
harbour, the anchorage of which is so often fatal. The General, who looks to every thing, had previously constructed Lazarettoes, the first that were seen in the cas-
sian countries.

THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTORY, dated the 29th ult.—
The Executive Directory, in consequence of the report
of the Minister of Foreign Relations, observing that the
drones, privateers, and ships, both of England and of Russia
are in a great measure equipped by foreigners:
Seeing moreover, that this violation is a manifest abuse
of the law of nations, and that the European powers have
no steps to check it, decrees:—
neutral state, who is bearer of a Commission granted by the
enemies of France, or who composes a part of the crews of
such without his being permitted, in any case whatever, to
claim that he was compelled into such service by force, threats,
or otherwise.
Article II. The Executive Directors of the Batavian, Lig-
of such arrete.
Article III. The provisions contained in the first article shall be notified to neutral and to the powers allied to the French Republic.
Article IV. The Minister of Foreign Relations is charged with the execution of the present arrete, which shall be published in the bulletin of the laws.

Alexandria, 18 Fructidor, Sept. 4.
BUONAPARTE, COMMANDER IN CHIEF, TO THE PACHA
OF CAIRO.
"The intention of the French Republic in taking
possession of Egypt has been to expel the Mamelucks,
who were at once rebels against the Porte, and avowed
the signal victory attained by her army, her design is to secure to the Pacha of the Grand Seignior, his re-
assure the Porte that it shall experience no loss, and that I shall take care it shall receive the same tribute

The Commission of Sciences and Arts, under the agency of the celebrated Monge, are busy in devising means to secure the French at least from the plague, extinguish, if possible, this devastating scourge, or at least diminish its effects. The people of the Levant, notwithstanding their doctrines of predestination, soon know the value of these salutary precautions.

General Kleber commands the garrison of Alexandria, consisting of about 5000 men, who are encamped on an extensive ground belonging to the town. The of Alexandria, and all the others in Egypt, very recently built from those in Europe, contain no great sees which might occasionally be converted into refuges; the houses are small, and badly built, so that soldier cannot lodge with an inhabitant. The camp is a new and agreeable sight. The troops, to keep off the dews, which in those countries supply the want of rain, have built a kind of tents or cottages, covered with palm leaves, which gives them a picturesque appearance. From thence you see the Obelisk of Cleopatra, of red granite, all covered with hieroglyphs. The Commission of Arts and Sciences had it restored from its foundation.

Rosetta is the best built city of Egypt. General Me-moreau commands the garrison of 2000 men.

The possession of Cairo makes us masters of all Egypt. Murat Bey, driven into Upper Egypt, is waiting there to plunder, according to custom, the canals of Abylinia.

The army, notwithstanding its fatigues and painful marches in traversing burning deserts, has displayed invincible courage. Buonaparte, ever calm, inspires them with unbounded confidence. It may be said that his mighty soul animates every soldier—that they are acquainted with his vast projects, and have sworn to follow him throughout. All the French are prepared for tales of emergency. The Commission of Sciences and Arts are now seeking them in those places where they first had birth; and the Republic of letters will be much enriched by its labours as the Political Republic will be honoured by its triumphs.

Extract of a letter from Citizen Conte, dated Alexandria, 15 Thermidor (August 2).—"I was employed by the Commander in Chief to collect all the productions of art and manufactures, in a word, every thing connected with industry. Several artists and designers were likewise employed under me. I am about likewise to construct mills on a simple plan, in order to provide bread for the army. While the aeronauts were not employed in their department, I employed them in examining several monuments which it was of importance to know, such as the two obelisks of Cleopatria, &c. I have already made a collection of drawings and descriptions which will always supply us with a new of things important to our progress, or at least valuable for their singularity. The General desired me to provide some means of sheathing the soldiers' mukets to prevent them from rust. I immediately fitted up one which will serve as a model, and I have made a receipt of the process, which is now employed with great success. The ship the Patriote, on board of which were all the articles necessary to acrobation, was wrecked just before our eyes. We saved from the wreck a part of the articles, but many things are still wanting which it will be difficult to supply.

A fete was yesterday given at Alexandria, on account of the capture of Cairo. The guns were fired, and the town was illuminated. The music of the two battalions serenaded the respective Chiefs. I went to the Commandant, General Kleber, and he engaged me to walk the streets with him. He entered a public place where music was playing; there was a Sheriff there, with several other Chiefs. They paid the General a very kind of honour, while others did the same by us, regarding us with respect, &c. Their music consists of tambourines, bagpipes, and some wind instruments.— They play some airs which scarcely at all vary, and in which hardly any thing can be distinguished but the sound.
They have small gated windows, very close, through which we thought we saw women, but so concealed that we could not well view them; but they retired as soon as they saw they were perceived. Tallien arrived here three days since, and has, I believe, set off for Cairo.

A letter from General Dupuis, who commands at Cairo, and the adjoining districts, dated the 2d Fructidor, (Aug. 19) addressed to Citizen Deville, merchant in Toulouse, has appeared in the Journal of Toulouse, the principal particulars of which are as follow:—"We are forming colonies and establishments of all kinds, and every thing seems to prosper; and fortune does not incline to forsake our hero, who also hews himself our friend. We are here celebrating with enthusiastic devotion the festivals of Mahomet.— The country we now inhabit will soon become a country of incalculable wealth, and before its inhabitants can recover from their astonishment and fears, our new conists will have had full time to settle their affairs.— We are replacing villains who strip the inhabitants to their very shirts. The futility of our manners seem new and extraordinary to the inhabitants, though we are obliged to restrain them under a hard and severe regimen.

Buonaparte continues always the same. He would not indulge in a moment's sleep till he had driven out the two reigning Beys; one, Ibrahim, into the deserts of Syria; the other, Murat Bey, above the cataracts of the Nile.

In about three days
we intend celebrating the festival of Mahomet. You will not easily believe it; but I may assure you that we are actuated with as fervent a zeal as the most fanatic pilgrim.

The English have sent us back all our prisoners and wounded; they have only detained about one hundred officers, whose loss we do not regret. Captain Perce commands the French flotilla upon the Nile, and remains, as I do, at Cairo. But my dear friend, if you could but see our soldiers! They have each a large ass that gallops like a racer; they are as happy as they could wish; and in the action in which my brigade was engaged, they gained 300,000 livres.
Gold is quite common; and an hundred guineas is but a trifle among our volunteers.

We have,
moreover, three pounds of excellent wheat for one fol, a halfpenny English."

PARIS—November 1.

General Moreau has received orders from the Directory to set out immediately for the army of Italy. He was to have left Paris yesterday evening.

It is imagined that he is to be employed in that country to fulfil something of a more important commission than the functions of Inspector General of Infantry, which rank he bears.

General Jourdan has also set out in company with General Ernouf.

General Humbert, and his aid-de-camp, Sullivan, are just arrived at this city.

Several denunciations have been made against Rear-Admiral Villeneuve, who has returned from Malta with the Guillaume Tell. He is reproached with having too speedily quitted the field of battle; and of having hoisted the signal for every one to save himself as fast as possible, of which he himself set an example.

The Journal de Sabler has published a letter from Egypt, dated Sept. 17, which announces, that Buonaparte is victoriously advancing; that he is the protector of the oppressed, and the irreconcilable enemy of Royal tyrants, and of Mamelucks. He has recruited his army with 100,000 Arabs, who are all robust and well made, and extremely resolute.

According to accounts from Constantinople, Buonaparte is drawing near to the immense treasures accumulated at Mecca, by the credulity of the Mussulmans.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 29.

The criminal revolt which has taken place in several of our departments seems to gather new strength. At present it extends over a considerable part of the departments of the Scheldt, of the two Nethe, of the Dyle, and Gemappe. Reinforcements of troops every moment arrive, and they are very necessary, for the troops are worn out with fatigue and the numerous engagements which they every moment must sustain. The town of Lierre, situated three leagues from Malines, was one of the principal places which the rebels had pitched upon to organize themselves. It was attacked the day before yesterday by the Republicans, and taken after a bloody action. The tree of liberty has been replaced, all the papers of the municipality have been burnt by the rebels, and the Stadthouse pillaged.— The village of Boom, two leagues from Antwerp, on the Canal, where the insurgents had formed a committee of insurrection, was likewise attacked, and carried after a warm action.

The same day, at six in the morning, the village of Cuenplieath, between Antwerp and Malines, was taken by the Republicans with fixed bayonet. On the 26th, 27th, and 28th, several bloody engagements took place between Hal, Enghien, and the village of St Tonelle.
The insurgents were attacked and defeated by the troops from Brussels and Mons, in three different bloody actions.

On another quarter, the armed inhabitants of Dieff and la Campine advanced even to the gates of Louvain, where they attacked different posts of troops.
The Republican troops detached in order to attack this body of insurgents were to do it this morning. The body of the rebels which marched to Louvain appeared to be numerous. Their leaders levy contributions, and enforce requisitions of men. The Municipality of Louvain yesterday morning quitted that city, where they were no longer safe, and yesterday morning Louvain was put in a state of siege.

Brussels is now the asylum of a great number of Municipal Officers, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of the Directory, and other public functionaries, who have retired thither to escape the fury of the rebel peasantry.
Although our tranquillity is perfect, yesterday six pieces of cannon were brought from Malines, which we planted on the Place de la Liberte.

THIS DAY'S POST.

LONDON—November 14.

This morning arrived a mail from Lisbon, brought to Falmouth by the Prince of Wales packet, in six days.

His Royal Highness Prince Edward arrived safe at Portsmouth yesterday, in the Topaze frigate, from Halifax.

The French Journalists endeavouring to palliate the seizure of the Giron country by the Emperor indicates pretty plainly that the Republic is seriously alarmed at the new league which they see forming, and which they have provoked by their undisguised departure from the principles of the Revolution. This dereliction has greatly weakened their power; and fear, the natural consequence, makes them deprecate a renewal of hostilities with the Emperor. The question of war or peace seems, therefore, to depend on the determination of the Emperor; or rather upon the effect which may be produced upon him by the inducements held out by Britain, which is known to be the soul of the projected league.

In the mean time, as a part of the same system, our Ministers are busily employed in negotiating commercial treaties which cannot fail to be beneficial to our trade.

A commercial treaty with the Emperor of Russia—a commercial treaty with the Emperor of Germany—a commercial treaty with the King of Prussia—a commercial treaty with the Ottoman Porte—a commercial treaty with the King of Spain! are all at this moment on the anvil; besides several inferior treaties, such as one with the King of Naples, which are actually concluded. By these treaties they expect to have the navigation of every sea opened to our trade; and what the French are endeavouring to accomplish by the revolutionary torrent, we are aiming to obtain by compromise.

On Friday last a committee of merchants were consulted on various points in these projected conventions, and it is expected that the wide-extended plan will be made known soon after the meeting of Parliament. By the treaty with the Turks the expectation is formed of securing all the advantages of that short communication with India which Buonaparte's expedition was intended to open to France by force of arms. The Levant trade will be revived, and by the free navigation of the Bosphorus and the Black Sea, we expect to penetrate by the Danube into the heart of Germany.

The treaty with Spain is by no means chimerical.
We have good reasons for believing that the ground is opened. Offers have been made too tempting to be refused, and the only difficulty is how to protect Spain from the vengeance of the French on the Pyrenean frontier. It is not impossible but that a Russian army may be defined to this service, while the collected wealth of several years, which has been obtained in South America for fear of its falling into the hands of the English on its passage, and of the French on its landing, will be brought home under the convoy of the British marine.

Such are the speculations of our Cabinet, and they are the topics of secret discussion in the Committees of the chosen few. We forbear for the moment to enter further into the details. But one thing is material, that as these projects give us the certainty of continued war, we are making preparations accordingly. The navy board contracted on Monday last for the unprecedented quantity of 130,000 pair of shoes, and immense contracts are to be made for other articles. Why is this?—Because the subsidy (the intended price for some of the treaties), is to be paid in British manufactures, not in money.—Star.

On the 6th instant, Mr George Edmund Shuttleworth, son of Mr Shuttleworth, of Sun Tavern Fields, was forcibly seized by two men in Back-lane, St George's in the East, who, having blindfolded and gagged him, dragged him to a place called Botany Bay, near the New Road, where they forced him into a hackney coach, and conveyed him; it is supposed, to some place near Chick Lane, where they confined him 48 hours without any sustenance, except a small piece of bread, and taking from him all his money except 3s. they conveyed him through several windings into West Smithfield, where they disengaged him, saying he might go and be d—d, for he was not the person they wanted.

Extract of a letter from Arthur McGwire, Esq. dated Dublin, Nov. 5, addressed to the Secretary of the East India Company, written from the information of his son, who was on the spot:—"An East India-man (name not mentioned) was stranded about 20 miles below Waterford, and four from Lungarvan, on the 11th of Nov. Her three masts were cut down. The masts and a great number of spars were driven in; six of the sailors had made a raft for the purpose of getting on shore, two of whom were lost. The survivors say she is richly laden with sugars, silk, muslin, indigo, and she carried two 24-pounders, though pierced for 50 guns. She is about 1000 tons burthen, had been taken by a French frigate, and retaken by the Diana, who put on board her a Lieutenant, a Midshipman, and 20 sailors. The cargo is valued at 100,000l."

PLYMOUTH—November 12.

This morning arrived from Ireland his Majesty's ships, and their prizes, as follow:

Magnanime	44 Guns, Captain Decourcy.
Melampus	36 — — — Moore.
L'Ambuscade	44 — — — ?
La Coquille	44 — — — French frigates.
La Recluse	40 — — —

They are all very fine ships, and not much disabled, considering the action, and the violent gales they have since encountered. They left the Robust and Hoche safe at Loughswilly.

DOVER, November 13.

We were somewhat alarmed last night, by hearing from the officer at the signal-house between here and Deal, that 21 sail of vessels went out of Boulogne harbour yesterday evening, and five from Calais, apparently to join them. The military were in readiness the whole night, the guns were shotted, and every preparation was made to receive an enemy. However, not any thing of the kind appeared; but the officer says, that he saw the above number of vessels; that they were small, but could not say whether they were gun-boats or fishermen; presuming they were the latter, our fears are all over.

EDINBURGH—NOVEMBER 7.

Married on Wednesday last, in Dublin, H. MOORE, Esq. to Mrs SHAW, of Terenure, relict of the late Robert Shaw Esq. whose memory will long be held high in the estimation of all who had the honour to know his worth.

Married on the 23d ult. at Gorteneorn, Argyllshire, ALEXANDER CAMERON, Esq. Captain, Argyll Volunteers, to Miss JESSY CAMPBELL, daughter of Arch.
Campbell of Lerage, Esq.

Mrs MOLLE of Malines was safely delivered of a son here on the 9th instant.

On Tuesday last, the 13th instant, died at Leith, PHILIP LOCH, Esq. Collector of the Customs at Alloa.

Died here on the 30th ultimo, Mrs MARY MAC-LEAN, widow of the deceased Mr Neil Maclean, of Lochmaddy.

Amongst the killed on board the Mermaid frigate, in her engagement with La Loire, is JAMES STIRLING, Esq. midshipman, second son of Sir John Stirling, Bart. of Glorac, Stirlingshire—he was a young man of great hopes in his profession, and died gallantly fighting for his country, at the early age of 17.

Yesterday died here, Mrs MARY BAILLIE, spouse of Andrew Crombie, solicitor at law.

Died on Friday, the 9th instant, very much regretted, Mr JOHN LIGHTON, factor for David Scott, Esq. of Dunninald.

On Saturday last, died at Leith, JOHN HARPER, late farmer at Backsidelee, in the 86th year of his age.

Died, on Friday the 9th inst: Mr ROBERT HART, merchant in Bowrytown.

On the 6th inst. died at Epfom, Surrey, Miss JANET COLHOUN, youngest daughter of the late Capt. Col-houn, of the Scots Greys.

Died on Sunday se'ennight, at his house near Hawk-head, Lancashire, Mr THOMAS RIGGE, an eminent state merchant. He had returned from the Isle of Man only a few days before, where he had for some time been engaged in manufacturing soap from fish, according to Sir JOHN DALRYMPLE's method.

We observe with pleasure an advertisement in this evening's paper, that a half length mezzotint engraving will soon be published of our late worthy Chief Magistrate, THOMAS ELDER, Esq. a man justly respected for his private virtues, and who will long be remembered for the important and patriotic services rendered his country.

On Sunday, a grenadier of the North York militia, was apprehended and committed to Glasgow prison on suspicion of belonging to a gang of swindlers and coiners, who have, for some time past, been too successful in circulating base money. A box of counterfeit shillings, to the value of nearly 200l. and which he, that day, received by the English mail, was seized and carried to the Clerks' Chamber.

DUBLIN—Nov. 10.

THEOBALD WOLFE TONE.

Thursday THEOBALD WOLFE TONE was brought to town prisoner from Derry, under a strong escort of cavalry, and conveyed to the Castle for examination, from whence he was shortly afterwards transmitted to the Provost Marshalsea, at the barracks, preparatory to his trial by Court-Martial. He was dressed in French uniform, great coat, with a gold-laced hat.
When first brought to prison, and about to be ironed, he remonstrated against such an indignity towards a Staff Officer, bearing a French commission, and a naturalized subject of the French Republic; and he obtained time to write a letter of remonstrance to Lord CA-VAN, Commanding Officer in the district, against such an indignity—but received for answer that he could be considered in no other light than as a rebel taken in arms against his king and country, and leading an hostile foreign force to the invasion of his native land; and therefore he must expect suitable treatment. This answer produced a paroxysm of indignation, in which Mr Tone tore off his French uniform pompously declaring it should not be disgraced by Irish fetters.

NOVEMBER 12.

The trial of T. W. TONE, by a Court Martial at the Barracks of Dublin, of which Gen: LOSTUS was President, concluded on Saturday last.

TONE being asked whether he was guilty or not of the charge of having as a false traitor entered into the service of the enemy and appeared in arms against his Sovereign? replied, that he would give the Court no trouble, that he fully admitted the charge.

He then read a kind of defence, in doing which he was at three different inflammatory passages stopped by the Court, and suffered to erase the obnoxious parts out of the paper.

The general tendency of this paper was, that he confessed having entered into the French service; (and he produced his commission of Chef de Brigade)—that he had embarked in the great design of raising three millions of his fellow-subjects from a state of bondage;— that he had made the same attempt in which WASSIE-INGTON had succeeded, and KOCZUSKO had failed;— to the Catholics of Ireland he acknowledged his obligations, he had engaged sincerely in their service, and had been amply remunerated; the connection of Ireland with Great Britain he had ever considered as her bane, and he had acted under that conviction to rescue his country; success he could not command, and he was prepared to meet his fate.

As a soldier, however, he wished to die like a soldier —he wished as an emigrant taken in arms, to be treated as the French had treated the Count de SOM-BRIEL, and to be shot; the sooner his fate was to take place, the better; he wished it might be within an hour.

He behaved with great firmness.

He was then remanded to prison, and the Court proceeded to discuss their sentence, which was sent to the Lord Lieutenant for his approbation, and has not yet transpired.

He is styled in the Role d'Equipe "Adjutant-General THEOBALD WOLFE TONE, dit Smith," (called Smith,) county Kildare, Ireland.

NOVEMBER 13.

The Court Martial which on Saturday tried this unfortunate man, was on Sunday generally understood to have found him guilty of the crime with which he was charged, and which his speech upon his trial fully confessed—"that of having served in the army of the enemy against his King and country."

About eight o'clock yesterday morning it was discovered that T. W. TONE, had endeavoured to avoid the sentence of public execution, by an attempt to take a way his own life; he was found by the keeper of his prison exhausted by loss of blood, his windpipe completely cut across, and the veins of his neck slightly wounded by a pen-knife, which was found in his hand.

The order for his execution had been issued; the front of Newgate was the place appointed, and every thing was prepared for his reception at the awful spot, when application was made by Counsellors CULHAM and JOHNSON, to the Court of King's Bench, for an Habeas Corpus to bring before that Court THEOBALD WOLFE TONE, grounded on the affidavit of his father, Mr PETER TONE, purporting that Theob. Wolfe Tone was tried by a Court Martial, on a charge of high treason, and was ordered for execution, though the said T.
Wolfe Tone did not belong to his Majesty's army, &c. and that such proceedings and sentence was pronounced during the sitting of his Majesty's law courts.

The Court ordered the Habeas Corpus, and that the prisoner should be brought up to the bar of the Court instantly.

In some short time an answer was made to the Court, that THEOBALD WOLFE TONE was unfit to be brought up, having dangerously wounded himself, and the Surgeon belonging to the 5th dragoons appearing to give testimony, the Court ordered him to be examined, when he deposed that he had visited T. W. TONE in the Provost Marshalsea; who was incapable of being removed in consequence of his making an attempt on his life, having with a razor cut his throat across, nearly from ear to ear, and also separated the wind pipe —that languishing under his present condition, he could not be stirred without immediate danger to his life.

The business remained so far undetermined, as not to admit of any further proceedings until the recovery of the unhappy gentleman.

HOLT was this day brought to the Castle, under a strong escort of the Powercourt cavalry.—He had previously surrendered to Lord Powercourt on terms, it is said, of transportation. Holt was dressed in a military uniform, scarlet faced with blue, and wore a military great coat.

IN THE COUNTY OF PERTH AND PARISH OF ST. ANDREWS.

Offers for the said farm must contain the price of one hundred and sixty bolls of barley, at the highest fair of the country of Fife, with three dozen of kain hens, and the remainder of the proposed rent in money.

Sealed offers to be given in to Professor Henry David Hill in St. Andrews, on or before the 1st day of February 1799. Such as are not accepted to be kept secret, if desired.

Thomas Mackie, porter to the United College in St. Andrews, will show the lands.

And entered to immediately or at Whitsunday next, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Wednesday the 5th day of December 1798, betwixt the hours of one and two afternoon.

THE FARM of CLINKMILN, with the Teinds, Parsonage, and Vicarage thereof, situated within a mile of the town of Cupar, in the county of Fife—to be held of a subject superior for payment of a trifling feu-duty. It consists in whole of upwards of 80 English acres. It is all substantially inclosed, and divided into eight fields, principally with stone and lime walls, in good repair, and each of them is well watered. It is presently in excellent order.

There is a Standing of Houses on it, sufficient for the accommodation of a tenant, and the let on a lease current till the term of Martinmas 1815, (for 19l. 4s. 3d. Sterling of money rent, with 11 hens or ducks, the tenant being likewise bound to drive nine cart loads of coals, carriage free yearly, or in the proprietor's option to pay one shilling sterling for each hen or duck, and five shillings sterling for each cart load of coals) the tenant has granted an obligation to renounce the possession of it, at any period during the lease, when required so to do by the proprietor, of which a purchaser will have it in his power to avail himself, if he judges it proper.

There is a good whinstone Quarry on these lands, and a command of water sufficient for carrying on the business of a distiller, or other work requiring such accommodation, which, from their local situation, might be advantageously done.

As also, the PROPERTY in CUPAR MUIR, which belongs to Mr Robertson of Balgavie, lying about a mile west from Cupar—likewise to be held of a subject superior. It consists of between 40 and 50 acres; about 16 of them have been lately trenched, danged, fenced, and laid down properly in grass. The rest of them is occupied by a remarkable fine thriving wood, about thirty years old.

There has been built and finished substantially, within these three years, a Dwelling-house, Stable, and Byre on this property. There is a Freestone Quarry on it, which has never been wrought, and it forms a square, affords an elegant situation for a Gentleman of taste to build on, and is enclosed by a ditch, a thriving hedge, and a strong railing.

Further particulars may be learned by applying to Edward Bruce, clerk to the signet; and the premises will be shown by D. Birrell, tenant in Easter Balgavie.

LANDS AND WOODS IN DUMFRIES-SHIRE.

To be SOLD by public roup, within the Royal Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 16th day of January 1799, between the hours of 6 and 7 afternoon.

1. THE ESTATE of CRAIGIEBURN, and Woods thereon, situated in the parish and within 2½ miles of the town of Moffat, comprehending upwards of 500 Scots acres, whereof about 70 acres are arable and meadow grounds, partly divided into parks by substantial stone-dykes, 70 acres in wood and plantations, and the remainder excellent pasture grounds, upon which there never flows any length of time.

The situation of Craigieburn is romantic and delightful, and the public road from Moffat to Selkirk runs through the estate, which lies along the water of Moffat, where there is good trout fishing. There is past in one of the farms, and abundance of game in the neighbourhood. The Mansion-house contains six rooms, besides bed-rooms, kitchen, &c. The Offices are new and substantial. The Garden is excellent, and laid out with much taste. There is a considerable quantity of old wood around the house and garden. The natural woods (68 acres in extent), consisting chiefly of oak and ash, were cut from 14 to 19 years ago, and are now again far advanced and in a most thriving condition, as well as 8 acres of plantations, from 5 to 9 years old. The whole property will be out of lease at Whitsunday next. The present rents, exclusive of the woods, are no more than 210l. Sterk. But as all the arable grounds have been in grass for eight years, and part of them limed on the surface; and as, in the view of a sale, the whole estate (excepting the Upper Hill, the lease of which expires at Whitsunday next), has been let only from year to year for 5 years past, a great increase of rent will be obtained upon leases of endurance, with liberty of tillage. The estate holds blench of the Crown. The teinds were valued in 1749; and the proprietor has a perpetual lease of them from the titular at a tack-duty of 3l. 12s.

2. Those Parts of the LANDS of FRENCHLAND, also in Moffat parish, called ROGERSMUIR and BAPLAW-PARKS. There are three parks lying contiguous to each other, within a quarter of a mile of Moffat; two of them on the fourth, and the other on the north-side of the public road from Moffat to Selkirk. They contain upwards of 65 acres, mostly or all arable, and are well inclosed. They hold blench of a subject superior, who is bound to enter heirs and singular successors gratis. The teinds are valued, and the proprietor has right to them, but they pay no public burdens. These parks afford fine situations for building on, and lie near to the mineral well. They were let for 19 years, from Whitsunday 1782, at a rent of 20l. but at Whitsunday 1801, when the lease expires, they will, it is believed, yield nearly triple that rent. The tenant is bound to have them in grass during the last three years of the tack.

3. The LANDS of BRECKENRIDE, with the Woods thereon, also lying in Moffat parish, within two miles of Moffat, and near to the great road leading from thence to Carlisle. This is a most valuable farm, well inclosed and subdivided. It contains 816 Scots acres, whereof 606 acres are hill pasture, 44 acres in wood, and the remainder mostly arable and meadow, with some fine pasture grounds. There is a Mansion-house of three stories, besides a good Farm Steading, on these lands. They are under lease till Whitsunday 1807. The present rent is no more than 105l. but they would now let for nearly double that rent. They hold blench of a subject superior. The teinds were valued in 1747, and the proprietor has right to them.

4. The old woodland Breckenside, which is mostly oak, and quite ready for cutting, was valued in 1782 at 1200l. The young wood, consisting of about 18 acres (which had been cut 12 years before that time), was then valued at 210l. and has since greatly increased in value, being well preserved and extremely thriving.

4. The LANDS of WOODHEAD, also in Moffat parish, lying contiguous to Breckenside, within little more than a mile of Moffat, and partly bounded by the water of Moffat and Annan river. The great road to Carlisle runs through this farm, which contains about 164 Scots acres, whereof 34 acres are rich holm land, a great part of the rest arable, and the remainder good pasture lands, with one acre of natural wood, and four acres of planting. This farm will be out of lease at Whitsunday next. From the view of a sale, it has been let only from year to year since Whitsunday 1794, under great limitations as to ploughing: so the present rent is no more than 53l. 6s. but it will yield a much higher rent upon a lease of 19 years, with liberty to plough a reasonable proportion. It holds blench of a subject superior. The proprietor has right to the teinds, which were valued in 1747.

N.B. Lots 3d and 4th will be exposed either together or separately, as may be agreed on at the roup.

5. The LANDS and ESTATE of CRAWFORDTON and Woods thereon, lying in the parish of Glencairn, upon the water of Cairn, about 12 miles above Dumfries. This estate comprehends upwards of 1400 acres, whereof about 70 acres are rich holm and meadow grounds, 268 acres arable, 990 acres pasture, and 86 acres woodland, interperched in some parts with pasture. The estate was let in 1786 in four farms. The rents amount only to 201l. being far below the value of the lands, which are well inclosed and subdivided, very improvable, and situated within three measured miles of Barrow Line Kilns, to which there is a good road. All the leases expire at Whitsunday 1803, excepting the lease of Cleughfield, rented at 41l. which endures to Whitsunday 1807, and a great increase of rent will be obtained upon new leases. The purchaser will have it in his power to avoid the present lease of a considerable part of Crawfordton (the principal farm) upon giving 12 months notice to the tenant, and allowing him a deduction from the rent, to be fixed by arbiters. There are valuable woods on this estate, mostly Oak, which may now be cut, besides a thriving plantation of more than 12 acres, far advanced. The estate is held of a subject superior, partly blench and partly feu, for payment of 21l. 0s. 10d. yearly. The proprietor has right to the teinds, which were valued in 1753.

The articles of roup, leases, rentals, notes of the valued rent, measurements, and title-deeds, are in the hands of Andrew Macwhinnie, writer, North Hanover Street, Edinburgh, who, or John McMurdo, Esq. at Milnhaugh near Dumfries, will give such further information as may be desired. James Thomson, Wood Forrester at Craigieburn, will show the lands in Moffat parish; and the tenants of Crawfordton will show that estate.

There is a most thriving natural wood on the lands, consisting of Oak, Birch, and others, and which will fit for cutting a few years hence.

The lands in each of the three counties will either be exposed in one lot, or in such smaller lots as may be most agreeable to purchasers; and it is proposed that the timber on the estate of Balencriff shall be sold along with the house, garden and grounds presently possessed by Mr McLeod, and that the timber on the estate of Darnhall shall be sold along with the mansion-house, garden, and parks of Darnhall, presently possessed by Sir Archibald Gordon Kinloch, but subject always to such future arrangements as may appear to be most agreeable to purchasers. The estate in East Lothian, with a particular rental thereof, will be shown by Mr Fraser, Sheriff-clerk of Haddington, and the estate in the counties of Peebles and Selkirk, by Mr Needham at Whitehall Bank, near Darnhall.

Any person wanting further information, and to see the conditions of sale, state of the current leases, plans, &c. may apply to Messrs Alexander Duncan, and James Walker, writers to the signet at Edinburgh.
